Item 2.02 Results of Operations and financial Condition

On February 6, 2014, the Company furnished the Original Form 8-K and included as an exhibit thereto a Press Release announcing its financial results for the quarter and year ended December 31, 2013 and related information (the "Original Earnings Release"). This Form 8-K/A is being furnished to report the final audited financial statements of the Company as described below.

Subsequent to the issuance of the Original Earnings Release, the Company finalized its annual audit of the consolidated financial statements that included adjustments to (i) increase the income tax provision from $9.7 million to $22.9 million for the quarter and from $13.7 million to $26.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2013 and (ii) increase deferred tax liabilities in the United States by $13.2 million as of December 31, 2013. Of the $13.2 million increase to the income tax provision and increase in deferred tax liabilities, approximately $10.7 million relates to periods prior to the year ended December 31, 2013, and $2.5 million relates to 2013. These adjustments are the result of the Company's conclusion that certain deferred tax liabilities may not be netted against deferred tax assets prior to determining the required valuation allowance.

While there is no change to the non-GAAP results or the first quarter 2014 outlook included in the Original Earnings Release, the additional tax expense results in final generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") net income attributable to ON Semiconductor Corporation for the quarter ended December 31, 2013 in the amount of $28.7 million, or $0.06 per diluted share, and final audited GAAP net income attributable to ON Semiconductor Corporation for the year ended December 31, 2013 in the amount of $150.8 million or $0.33 per diluted share.

The Company has revised its Original Earnings Release and the Unaudited Consolidated Statement of Operations and Unaudited Balance Sheet contained therein to give effect to the adjustments described above (the "Revised Earnings Release"). The Revised Earnings Release replaces the Original Earnings Release and has been re-posted on the Company's website. The Revised Earnings Release is furnished with this Form 8-K/A as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.

The information under this Item 2.02 of this report, including Exhibit 99.1, is being furnished under Item 2.02 and shall not be deemed to be "filed" for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Exchange Act"), or otherwise subject to liability of that section nor shall such information be deemed incorporated by reference in any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Exchange Act, regardless of any general incorporation language in such filing, except as shall be expressly set forth by specific reference in such filing.

"With a strong design win pipeline across multiple segments and with substantial progress in previously announced restructuring measures, we believe we are well positioned to deliver strong operational results for 2014," said Keith Jackson, president and CEO of ON Semiconductor. "In 2014, we expect to resume strong free cash flow generation, which had been a hallmark of our operating model. Our momentum in targeted growth areas of automobiles, smartphones, and select segments of the industrial end-market should accelerate and enable us to deliver above market growth in 2014.

“Business trends during the fourth quarter of 2013 improved significantly with heightened order activity, and the strength has continued thus far in the current quarter. With an improving macro-economic outlook, especially for developed economies, and with favorable supply-demand dynamics, we are upbeat on our outlook for 2014.”

FIRST QUARTER 2014 OUTLOOK

“Based upon product booking trends, backlog levels, and estimated turns levels, we anticipate that total ON Semiconductor revenues will be approximately $695 million to $725 million in the first quarter of 2014,” Jackson said. “Backlog levels for the first quarter of 2014 represent approximately 80 to 85 percent of our anticipated first quarter 2014 revenues. Average selling prices for the first quarter of 2014 are expected to be down approximately 2 percent when compared to the fourth quarter of 2013. The following table outlines ON Semiconductor’s projected first quarter of 2014 GAAP and non-GAAP outlook.

* Convertible Notes, Non-cash Interest Expense is calculated pursuant to FASB’s Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) Topic 470: Debt.
** Diluted share count can vary for, among other things, the actual exercise of options or vesting of restricted stock units, the incremental dilutive shares from all of the company’s convertible senior subordinated notes, and the repurchase or the issuance of stock or convertible notes or the sale of treasury shares.
*** Special items may include: amortization of intangible assets, amortization of acquisition-related intangibles, expensing of appraised inventory fair market value step-up, inventory valuation adjustments, purchased in-process research and development expenses, restructuring, asset impairments and other, net, goodwill impairment charges, gains and losses on debt prepayment, non-cash interest expense, income tax adjustments to approximate cash taxes, actuarial (gains) losses on pension plans and other pension benefits, and certain other special items, as necessary.
**** Regulation G and other provisions of the securities laws regulate the use of financial measures that are not prepared in accordance with GAAP. We believe these non-GAAP measures provide important supplemental information to investors. We use these measures, together with GAAP measures, for internal managerial purposes and as a means to evaluate period-to-period comparisons. However, we do not, and you should not, rely on non-GAAP financial measures alone as measures of our performance. We believe that non-GAAP financial measures reflect an additional way of viewing aspects of our operations that - when taken together with GAAP results and the reconciliations to corresponding GAAP financial measures that we also provide in our releases - provide a more complete understanding of factors and trends affecting our business. Because non-GAAP financial measures are not standardized, it may not be possible to compare these financial measures with other companies’ non-GAAP financial measures, even if they have similar names.

* Adjusted EBITDA represents net income before interest expense, interest income, provision for income taxes, depreciation and amortization expense and special items. We use the adjusted EBITDA measure for internal managerial evaluation purposes, as a means to evaluate period-to-period comparisons and as a performance metric for the vesting/releasing of certain of our performance-based equity awards. Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure. Regulation G and other provisions of the securities laws regulate the use of financial measures that are not prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. We believe this measure provides important supplemental information to investors. However, we do not, and you should not, rely on non-GAAP financial measures alone as measures of our performance.

We believe that non-GAAP financial measures reflect an additional way of viewing aspects of our operations that – when taken together with GAAP results and the reconciliations to corresponding GAAP financial measures that we also provide in our press releases – provide a more complete understanding of factors and trends affecting our business. Because non-GAAP financial measures are not standardized, it may not be possible to compare these financial measures with non-GAAP financial measures used by our company or other companies, even if they have similar names.

Non-GAAP Measures

To supplement the consolidated financial results prepared under GAAP, ON Semiconductor uses non-GAAP measures which are adjusted from the most directly comparable GAAP results to exclude items related to the amortization of intangible assets, amortization of acquisition-related intangibles, expensing of appraised inventory fair market value step-up, inventory valuation adjustments, purchased in-process research and development expenses, restructuring, asset impairments and other, net, goodwill impairment charges, gains and losses on debt prepayment, non-cash interest expense, their related tax effects, actuarial (gains) losses on pension plans and other pension benefits, and certain other special items, as necessary. Management does not consider these charges in evaluating the core operational activities of ON Semiconductor. Management uses these non-GAAP measures internally to make strategic decisions, forecast future results and evaluate ON Semiconductor's current performance. Most analysts covering ON Semiconductor use the non-GAAP measures as well. Given management's use of these non-GAAP measures, ON Semiconductor believes these measures are important to investors in understanding ON Semiconductor's current and future operating results as seen through the eyes of management. In addition, management believes these non-GAAP measures are useful to investors in enabling them to better assess changes in ON Semiconductor's core business across different time periods. These non-GAAP measures are not in accordance with or an alternative to GAAP financial data and may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies. Because non-GAAP financial measures are not standardized, it may not be possible to compare these financial measures with other companies' non-GAAP financial measures, even if they have similar names.

Management presents this non-GAAP financial measure to enable investors and analysts to evaluate our revenue generation performance relative to the direct costs of revenue of ON Semiconductor's core businesses.

Non-GAAP Net Income and Net Income Per Share

The use of these non-GAAP financial measures allow management to evaluate the operating results of ON Semiconductor's core businesses and trends across different reporting periods on a consistent basis, independent of non-cash items including the amortization of intangible assets, amortization of acquisition-related intangibles, expensing of appraised inventory fair market value step-up, purchased in-process research and development expenses, restructuring, asset impairments and other, net, goodwill impairment charges, gains and losses on debt prepayment, non-cash interest expense, their related tax effects, actuarial (gains) losses on pension plans and other pension benefits, and certain other special items, as necessary. In addition, they are important components of management's internal performance measurement and reward process as they are used to assess the current and historical financial results of the business, for strategic decision making, preparing budgets and forecasting future results.
